THE RUSSIAN ADVANCE.

"An Observer" sends us the gist of a conversation which he heard two Russian officers indulging in at the Peak a few days ago, together with his remarks thereon. It runs as follows:—

Senior officer:—"He—(Russ. parashénoc)—Englishmen have taken as much trouble over this place as if they meant to stop here for ever!"

Junior officer:—"Don't you think we could manage to drive them out of it?"

Senior:—"I fear not. They would fight with the ferocity of mad bulldogs for this island home of theirs. You see the trouble is we can't get Englishmen to help us."

Junior:—"But we might set up an equally good position at the Pescadore, whence we could harass them terribly."

Senior (with a sigh):—"Just so, but the British might drive us out of it. They are sure to help those cursed Chinese. I am afraid our Government has strengthened the fleet here too late. We shall have an awful struggle when the orders come. You will see by and by."

Junior:—"Then all the more glory if we gain the victory."

"Observer" adds:—"The Russians may rest assured that, 'the Englishmen will fight with the ferocity of mad bulldogs for this island home of theirs.' Only thirty years ago we drove them out of the Japanese islands of Tsushima, compelling them to retreat to Vladivostok. In 1885 we seized Port Hamilton, an important strategic point on the Korean coast, because we knew Russia was about to take it. At the present time Russia is intriguing in Korea with a view to acquiring a port on the Pacific slopes open all the year round. Her fleet in these seas has reached well-nigh menacing proportions, whilst her commerce in the Far East is of microscopic dimensions only. Of merchant steamers she has but two in these latitudes. She is pushing forward her Trans-Siberian railway, a purely military enterprise, and massing troops on the Russo-Manchurian frontier. In short, her whole attitude bespeaks the preparation of aggression in the Far East for which Muscovite rulers have become justly notorious. What with the active support of Japan, and the moral and pecuniary aid of America, Russian developments, in view of China's resistent lethargy and vacillation, have reached a point from which they should in the ordinary course of events—either rapidly assume an unassailable position or be caused to dwindle down to that level which becomes her so-called 'natural' interest. The longer we wait the more costly and bloody will be the struggle for the maintenance of justly paramount influence in Eastern Seas—a struggle of civilization against the fanatical forces of a power bent on bridging the world under the sway of the most crushing despotism that Christendom has ever been trammelled with, under cover of vaunted civilization."

NEWS BY THE AUSTRALIAN MAIL.

The China Navigation Steamship Co.'s vessel Tsinau, Capt. W. N. Allison, arrived from Australia to-day. We take the following telegrams from our exchanges:—

LONDON, March 11th.

It is understood that the Right Hon. G. J. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will deliver the Budget speech in the House of Commons after Easter.

The crisis in Serbian politics consequent upon the resignation of the Grulich Ministry has been averted.

The Right Hon. H. C. Raikes, Postmaster-General, said in the House of Commons that neither Australia nor India had expressed a desire for the reduction of the rates of postage with England. Australia lost £380,000 on her services, and Canada 700,000, annually.

It was also doubtful, the Postmaster-General declared, if England was competent to reduce the rate of the postage on ocean letters by one penny without destroying the agreements with other countries.

Mr. Faulber, who, a few days ago, was shot at and wounded by a reporter named Kincaid, in the corridor of the Capitol of Washington, U. S., is dead.

The probable delegates for Great Britain to the International Conference upon labour, to meet at Berlin this week, will be the Earl of Dunraven, Mr. Charles M. Kennedy, C.B., of the Foreign Office, and Mr. John Burnett, labour correspondent of the professional department of the Board of Trade.

The Liverpool dockers are willing to submit the matter of their dispute to arbitration.

In the House of Commons this evening, Lord Randolph Churchill denounced the Times special Commission as utterly unconstitutional. By means of a subtle use of the powers of the House, the Government, he said, had forced their opponents to submit to an unprecedented, an unparalleled, and a tremendous instrument of oppression. He hoped that a future Parliament would expunge from its journals the records of the Commission.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain said the Commission had shown that the Government was right, and that an alliance existed between the Parnellites and the party of physical force and agrarian disorder in Ireland. This was certainly not a venial or a trivial thing. All the late Mr. Forster's charges, made in 1882, were now proved.

Mr. Jennings withdrew the amendment submitted by him, declining to be identified with the hostile attitude assumed towards the Government by Lord Randolph Churchill, at whose suggestion the amendment was moved.

March 12th.

In the House of Commons last night Mr. W. S. Calne, M.P. for Barrow-in-Furness, moved the amendment which Mr. Jennings had withdrawn. It was rejected by 32 to 219.

The motion moved by the Right Hon. W. H. Smith, leader of the House, that the report of the Commission be adopted, and that the thanks of the House be passed to the Judges forming the Commission, was agreed to without division.

It is reported that Sir John Gorst is to be appointed one of the British delegates at the Berlin Conference.

The Porte has granted an amnesty to most of the Cretan refugees.

Sir Thomas Esmond, one of the Irish delegates who recently visited Australia, is at present in New Orleans. In addressing a meeting in that city he announced that the delegates had collected a sum of £50,000 in Australia in furtherance of the Home Rule cause.

The Morla Colliery, at Cardiff, in which a terrible explosion occurred, with the result that hundreds of miners were entombed, has now caught fire.

Germany has annexed the islands of Mauda, Patta, and Zangwar, on the east coast of Africa, north of Zanzibar.

Major Wiseman, commander of the German forces operating in East Africa, had a battle with the natives under Swana Heri. The latter force was entirely broken, with the loss to the Germans of only one killed.

The French forces in Dahomey have inflicted a serious defeat upon the Dahomeyans, who lose 1,000 men, including the general of the Amazons, or female warriors. The King of Dahomey thereupon retired to Lamia.

The six French subjects who were made prisoners by the Dahomeyans have been released March 13th.

The following have been appointed to represent England at the forthcoming Labour Conference to be held in Berlin:—Sir John Gorst, Mr. John Barnett, of the Board of Trade, Mr. Houldsworth, M.P., Mr. Thomas Burt, M.P., and Mr. David Dale.

The Standard states that Lord Randolph Churchill is a deadly enemy of the Government, that he has forfeited the respect of the Tories, and that he had better cross the floor of the House and join the Opposition.

M. Pasteur denies that he sought the reward of £25,000 offered by the New South Wales Government for a scheme for the extermination of rabbits in that colony. He, however, asserts that his assistants who visited the colony were prevented from making the necessary experiments with his system of extermination by microbes.

The Berlin Post announces that the Reichstag will be asked to vote a sum sufficient to maintain 74 new batteries of artillery.

A conference of Yorkshire colliers has been held, at which the men expressed their willingness to accept an advance of 5 per cent. in their wages at once and an extra 5 per cent. in July next. Failing this, they will cease work.

A syndicate in England offers to provide the capital requisite for the extension of the Australian wine importers' business.

The Emperor of Austria has reproached Count Apponyi Karolyi for attacking M. Tisza, who has just retired from the Hungarian Ministry.

The freedom of the city of London has been conferred upon Sir John Fowler, the engineer for the Forth Bridge.

The persons concerned in the fraudulent scheme for the emigration of peasants in Wadowice, Galicia, have been tried. They all received light sentences. The public prosecutor has appealed against the sentences of the Court.

Dr. B. F. Westcott, Canon of Westminster, has been appointed Bishop of Durham, in succession the late Dr. Lightfoot.

The fire in the Morla Colliery, Cardiff, which succeeded the terrible explosion in the mine, has now been extinguished. Eighty-seven more bodies have been recovered.

Tenders will be called for a Cape loan of over one million, to be opened on March 20th. The stock will bear interest at 3 per cent., and the minimum has been fixed at par.

Victoria is unwilling to raise two loans this year as was at first proposed, and it is anticipated that the Victorian Treasurer will issue a loan of the full amount authorised in April next. By that time it is thought money will be cheaper.

Three persons concerned in the riot at Johannesburg, in the Transvaal, when President Kruger was prevented from speaking and the Transvaal flag was torn down and destroyed, have been brought before the Dutch Courts. They were charged with treason.

Great excitement prevails amongst the British population at the action of the Boers, and public feeling runs high among both parties.
